Ohio Today Receives Honored Son From A Sorrowful Nation

Pennsylvania Cities Pay Homage to Remains of Chief As Funeral Train Moves Westward.

INDUSTRY CEASING

On Board President Harding's Funeral Train, Aug. 9.—The mother state of six Presidents received back today the latest of her sons to add luster to her name, returning in death, who bore upon his bier the garlands of a Nation's sorrow and love.

Warren G. Harding came back to his home folk this morning. Years ago he went from them into larger spheres of activity and honor, full of splendid vigor; robust in health. He came back today cold and pale in death, the majesty of sacrifice and service upon his still face—back to the mother state that awaits with outstretched arms to receive him to his rest.

Beginning at Baltimore, one hour out of Washington and continuing through York, Harrisburg, Altoona and Pittsburgh the scenes that marked the train's transcontinental progress eastward were re-enacted as it sped through the night and dawn.

At Baltimore a rain storm drenched the thousands who waited the train's arrival, but no one left until the lights of the funeral train faded into the distance.

At York, Pa., silver horns played the stirring hymn: "Lead Kindly Light" while thousands sang.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 9.—Pennsylvania's capital expressed fittingly the sorrow of the Keystone State for its sister Commonwealth to the west.

Altoona found miners and railroad workers standing in reverent silence in the night as the train glided by. Pittsburgh for the second time in two days sent thousands to stand uncovered in the semi-gloom of dawn. Everywhere the train stopped flowers were not on board.

Mrs. Harding rested well after her trying day in Washington yesterday. She was somewhat disturbed by report that she had collapsed. There was no foundation for such report. Her step was as firm, her calm as unshaken when she boarded the train at Washington last night as at any time. She was very tired and retired at once to her stateroom, where she asked that newspapers containing the story of the great state funeral be brought to her. She read them with interest before she went to sleep.

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 9.—The simple rites of a simple people were to attend the last funeral services today and tomorrow of Marion's most distinguished citizen and one of the country's great men.

The body of Warren G. Harding was to arrive at ten o'clock this morning at his home town, only a year ago festooned with flags and bright colors in celebration of the last previous return of the President was today decorated with the sombre colors of mourning.

Early today Center street, along the route from the Union Station to the home of the late President's father was roped off. In places of advantage along the line and at the station people began to take their position hours before the scheduled arrival of the funeral train.

Mrs. F. B. Leavy and son are visiting relatives at Conneaut Lake at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Souders, of Newburgh, New York are visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Souders and other local relatives.

Mrs. Jennie Owens and daughter Elsie of New York city are visiting friends and relatives here.

John Scott and son Orville, have returned to their home in Cincinnati, Ohio, after visiting relatives and friends here. This is Mr. Scott's first visit here in twenty-one years and says he has found the place considerably changed.

Mrs. Lance Daughenbaugh and Mrs. Richard Conklin of Altoona are visiting at Fred Conklin's for a few days.

HORSES MAKE MEAL OF AIRPLANE WINGS AT BELLEFONTE FIELD

Bellefonte, Pa., Aug. 8.—Aviator R. Haines of Lancaster learned a lesson last night and it was nothing to do with stunts in the air or fancy flying.

Haines, accompanied by his wife and Mechanician J. Behmer, flew here last night from Lewisport. Because of a hard rain storm he came down on the Bellefonte aviation field and decided to spend the night in Bellefonte. The manager of the field advised Haines to run his machine, a commercial plane, into the hangar for safe keeping, but he declined, saying he frequently left it out at night.

The Bellefonte field is located on the farm of Thomas Beaver, Centre county's member of the Legislature. Beaver invariably turns his cattle and horses into the aviation field at night to pasture, as one way of keeping the grass down.

Suits Equine Palate.
Along about midnight the night watchman at the big hangar heard a noise near Haines' plane and investigated. He found most of Beaver's horses around the tail of the machine munching their jaws with every evidencing of delight. An examination disclosed that they had stripped the linen covering off the stabilizer and elevator and were chewing it to pulp. Two big holes had also been torn in the cloth on the wings of the machine. The watchman had difficulty in chasing the animals away, and had to keep close watch on the plane the balance of the night.

The only explanation for the peculiar taste of the horses is that some of the ingredients used in the glue with which the cloth was applied to the wood appealed to their appetites. Haines was compelled to stay in Bellefonte until he could repair the damage.

toona, Pa., who is president of the Laymen's Association of the Central Pennsylvania Conference. The Scripture was Micah the sixth chapter, closing with the eighth verse, specially favorite Scripture of the late President, a verse that he pressed with his lips when he kissed the Bible at his induction into office.

The Official Board was the largest in attendance of this pastorate. Big business was on. October 21 was named for a World Service Sunday, with a group of distinguished men to visit this center of the Clearfield sector of the Williamsport District. A tentative schedule of events and plans was adopted unanimously. Thorough discussion was given every matter. Dr. Titus Lowe, who has served in missionary fields, visited others extensively, filled pastorate in churches in the east and far west, coming under judgment.

Mr. Robert Donald Lorenz, one of Blair county's rising young attorneys, now practicing his profession in Roaming Springs and Miss Ethel Loretta Minda of Ramsey, Clearfield county, were united in marriage on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the parsonage of the Methodist church in Hollidaysburg, the pastor Rev. Robert C. Peters, officiating. They were unattended. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Minda of Ramsey and is an accomplished young woman. The bridegroom stands high in his profession and has a host of friends in the county who join in wishing them much happiness. After a wedding trip to eastern cities, they will take up their residence in Roaming Spring.—Altoona Mirror.

ROTARY PAYS LAST MARK OF RESPECT TO FELLOW MEMBER

The regular weekly meeting of the Clearfield Rotary Club held at the Hotel Jordan last evening, as was the case at all Rotary Club meetings for the week, was devoted entirely to a memorial service for Rotarian Warren G. Harding, our lately deceased President of the United States.

There were forty-five Rotarians and guests present when President Albert Stewart called the assembly to order and stated the purpose of the meeting. He paid brief tribute to the illustrious deceased Rotarian and called upon Rev. Edward C. Reeve to open the service. Dr. Reeve responded feelingly and most impressively. He touched briefly upon those personal characteristics of Rotarian Harding which won for him such a high place in the hearts of all who had the pleasure of close personal acquaintance and in mentioning his deep religious convictions mentioned the deceased President's preferences for certain passages in the Scripture and the hymns he favored and which were made a part of the funeral service. Among these were the 23d Psalm, which the speaker asked the Rotarians to recite with him; Micah sixth chapter and eight verse, and Revelation, twenty-second chapter, first to fifth verses. Dr. Reeve rehearsed the beautiful stories of these sections of the Word and painted their fitting application in this case. Dr. Reeve's remarks were beautifully impressive and made a lasting impression upon the assemblage.

At the conclusion of Rotarian Reeve's remarks President Stewart asked all to stand and sing "Lead Kindly Light," which was done under the direction of Song Leader H. Clark Thayer.

To Rotarian Singleton Bell had been assigned the task of delivering the memorial to the deceased. The selection was wise as Singleton was at his best, paying most eloquent tribute to the memory of the deceased Rotarian, distinguished statesman and outstanding American. He gave a brief resume of the life of Warren G. Harding, touching upon his many achievements in early life, which marked him as a man possessing exceptionally admirable qualities of head and heart, and carried along the eloquently beautiful outline until the outstanding ability of the man carried him up the ladder of opportunity and service until he stood at the very pinnacle of human achievement in this life in the commanding position of President of the United States. The speaker evidenced his close study of the life of the deceased by the intimate nature of his references to the little things that made Rotarian Harding great in the eyes of his friends and styled his untimely passing away a distinct loss to our nation. Judge Bell in closing his address said he could best show what was in Rotarian Harding's heart by quoting brief extracts from his address to the International Rotary Convention at St. Louis, in which the then President Harding paid splendid tribute to Rotary and its service by saying in effect that the spirit of Rotary implanted in the hearts of all the world would bring about universal peace and the universal good will among men that is a part of the Divine plan.

Rotarian Bell's address was exceptionally forceful and able and at its conclusion the club members arose and brought the meeting to a close with the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee."

City Taking on Dress-Up Appearance for Monster Convention Next Week

Though it is a week until the day this city is due to the fire houses of the Central District of Pennsylvania Volunteer Firemen's association, the center of the city is beginning to take on a gala appearance.

The J. L. Furman Company, of Jamestown, N. Y., who have been made official decorators for the occasion, started this morning to decorate the buildings. This will be followed the fore part of next week with the street decorations. The Furman Company, in order to make good on their contract with the local firemen, turn down the decoration of Marion, Ohio, for the funeral of the late President.

The companies are steadily working in their notices to the effect that they will be with us to a man on the convention dates which assures a vast crowd for the city.

The firemen have engaged Monty's orchestra to furnish music for the grand ball on Wednesday evening and as this orchestra is well known throughout the section a good time is assured to everybody.

The race entries are coming in steadily and there should be some keen competition among the various companies for the prizes which have been put up.

Arrangements have been made today for a grand display of fireworks on Thursday evening, that will surpass anything that has been seen in this city for some time.

Up your streets and down your streets early. All steps will be closed at afternoon and will not reopen. The entire afternoon will be given over to quiet and peaceful out of respect to our late President, Warren G. Harding.

The set program will be carried out tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock at the driving park, this program having been published yesterday in The Progress.

Chairman Edwin Mahaffey is actively engaged in planning up cars to transport to the park all those who have no means to go and is meeting with fine success. M. E. Gentry will look after the East End. Those who want transportation will meet at the Court House and the City Hall at three o'clock and those who have agreed to furnish cars will also report at that time so they can make several trips.

Every citizen who has a car should join in making this a feature of the occasion and if you have not already called Mr. Gentry to offer your car, do it at once.

Of course it is not expected that everybody shall wait to be transported to the park. Surely the distance is not so great but that eighty per cent of our population at least can walk or go in their own conveyances. No one will be refused the ride but it is the purpose of the committee to furnish this transportation to mothers with children, little folks and the crippled and aged. Nobody will want to burden those who have been kind enough to offer cars.

The little folks especially should attend this service. It will instill in their minds a new idea of patriotic fervor.

It was decided to notify all the Tribes in the District to hold a memorial service for the late President Harding at their next meeting.

Madera was selected as the place for holding next year's convention.

The following officers were elected: President—Charles B. Shugerts, of Clearfield; vice president—Harold Smith, of Curwensville; secretary—James Wier, of Madera; treasurer—William Weaver, of Morrisdale.

Miss Lulu Watson and sisters of Snow Shoe spent yesterday in Clearfield with relatives.

The above is a fac-simile of a Testament now in the possession of Albert Hunter which is to be awarded to the worker who sells the most bricks in the campaign to raise funds for the erection of the West Side M. E. church.

The committee early last spring asked the then President to autograph this Testament that it might be used for such a purpose and he very graciously responded.

It will indeed be a worthwhile memento of a truly great American.

For clothing the average family this year will spend about seventy-five per cent more than in 1913, according to a national-wide price investigation just completed by the Department of Labor.

At retail stores clothing prices have nearly two per cent higher than a year ago. Compared with 1920, however, the average price shows a decline of sixty per cent.

It was in 1920 that prices of clothing touched the highest point in the history of the United States. In June of that year the average family was buying clothing at a price approximately 187 per cent above the pre-war period. Then depression gripped the country. Unemployment was widespread. The so-called "silk suit" buying stopped abruptly. Merchants endeavored to move stock by slashing prices.

A year later the average clothing price stood at a point 123 per cent above 1913. That meant a reduction of twenty-two per cent from the peak of the previous year. Price cutting continued until the following year, clothing dropped to a point seventy per cent above the 1913 price level.

Three hours and seventeen minutes after Warren G. Harding died in San Francisco last Thursday, Calvin Coolidge took Presidential oath of office from his father in the Coolidge homestead at Plymouth, Vt.

Only one other Vice President ever took the oath following the death of a President, in shorter time. He was Andrew Johnson, who officially became President two hours and thirty-eight minutes after Lincoln died, April 15, 1865.

The seven hours and twenty-one minutes after William McKinley died in Buffalo, Sept. 14, 1901, Theodore Roosevelt was sworn in as President. Chester A. Arthur officially succeeded James A. Garfield on Sept. 20, 1881, three hours and forty-two minutes after the latter's death.

Millard Fillmore, who followed Zachary Taylor, July 10, 1850 and John Tyler, who succeeded William Henry Harrison, April 6, 1841, were sworn in nearly twenty-four hours after the deaths of their predecessors.

Why Busy People Have Leisure.

They say that the busiest people have the most time to give in service to others, can turn clear attention to any subject at an instant's notice. This is simple because the busiest people are the ones who are accomplishing things. They have learned the art of promptness, of quick dismissal of what has to be done. They are always at any moment undivided attention because their minds are clear and ready.

Cleanliness Next to Godliness.

The phrase "Cleanliness is next to Godliness" is found in John Wesley's Sermon XCII on Dress. The language of the aphorism, however, is taken from the Beraitha, a translation of the Mishna by Rabbi M. de Sola. Bacon in one of his essays says: "For cleanliness of body was ever esteemed to proceed from a due reverence to God, to society and to ourselves."—Christian Herald.

In Death Not Divided.

It is true that in several parts of China it is still considered an act of virtue for a woman to commit suicide publicly after the death of her husband. According to the law, the proceeding is actually legal in some provinces, and such is the state of public opinion that in districts where it is officially prohibited the authorities rarely interfere.

Seemed Like Wasted Time.

HOW TO FORGET TROUBLES

TROUBLES knock up your system like Jack Dempsey knocks down his opponent.

Troubles deal blows both in the head and stomach—and hurt the stomach more than they do the head!

Troubles give the stomach indigestion, slow up the liver—and then follow constipation and biliousness.

The way to get rid of troubles is to invigorate digestion, stimulate liver and bowels and tone up the entire system. The best way to do this—has been for the past 80 years—is to take Beecham's Pills.

Then you will feel so good that "troubles" become merely problems, to be solved readily by the clear, keen brain of health.

REGARDING BASEBALL

"BLUNDERS"

At the DuBois-Clearfield ball game at the Park, a DuBois player deliberately violated the rules of the game by standing in onto the base line while reaching at third base. The umpire, Linsbarger, invoked the rule made to play just such practice by calling the batter out. The DuBois player then contended the umpire was wrong and refer to the manager in the Courier in an attempt to justify a "steal" at the DuBois game Tuesday evening. They shout as follows:

"Although 'DuBois' Ansel is alleged to have stolen at third in the eighth inning that gave DuBois the deciding tally, local fans point to the fact that Ricketts of Clearfield made a greater blunder than the local official. Clearfield will welcome the firemen of this district next week, Aug. 14-17 inclusive, and DuBois Elks and Clearfield will wind up the big event on Thursday with the deciding game of the three ply series."

Following the kick put up by DuBois Umpire Linsbarger wrote the Sporting Editor of the Philadelphia North American, outlining the play and his ruling and in a reply Editor White informs the umpire the ruling was right as the coach had violated

MINNESOTA NOT RADICAL

Radicalism is positive and aggressive. It is not conceivable that anyone convinced of the necessity of extreme action in politics would neglect to make the weight of his opinion felt in the polls. It is a fair assumption that in the recent senatorial election in Minnesota, for example, the full radical strength was represented among those who voted. As the radical candidate was elected by a plurality of about 95,000 it has been concluded that for the time being the majority of electors in that formerly rock ribbed Republican state have become extreme radicals with intent to improve their economic condition by radical action. Analysis of the complete returns of the polling last month affords nothing in support thereof. It does not afford consolation for the Republican party, whose candidate was decisively beaten, but it is convincing against belief that the American people are shifting away from their traditional sound sense and conservatism.

The fact that Governor Preus and Magnus Johnson, who sought the senatorship this year, had been opponents last November for the governorship, makes comparison of the results of these elections unusually informative. Preus won last year by approximately 13,000; Johnson was successful this year, but neither man received as great a vote last month as he received in November, 1922. The Farmer-Labor polling fell off about 5,000, while the Republican total was approximately 114,000, under that of eight months before. Radicalism made no gain. The falling off of Republican support for Preus is attributed to dissatisfaction with the Governor's administration and his failure to take any positive stand on the issues brought forward in the senatorial election. Johnson got the seat of Knute Nelson by a species of default.

If unrest accounted for the heavy Johnson vote in 1922, the decline in the Johnson vote in 1923 must indicate a subsidence of that unrest and of the faith of Minnesotans in the power of radical prescriptions to improve conditions. But dollar wheat has been mentioned as the principal cause of Johnson's success, this being a trouble added to the old ones that are at the base of the radical uprising. Obviously there has been a miscalculation. The old Republican organization has degenerated to a considerable extent, but the Farmer-Labor party, enthusiastic and well-disciplined, a veritable political machine, has not attracted the disgruntled Republicans in numbers.

That there is danger of the country running into radicalism is indicated by the Minnesota election.

INVEST IN YOUR HOME TOWN

There are some people who will cheer enthusiastically at a public meeting for the advance of their home community, and if it is suggested that they should put up a little money to help this or that town enterprise, they are found wanting. There are others who are extremely free with their valuable advice about home conditions, but if it is suggested that they put financially in improvement enterprises or take stock in local undertakings, they also are missing.

Many people who feel they can not afford to put money into any local business, may yet have some funds which they could loan as a mortgage on some house or farm, or other property. Or they can build a little home for themselves and thus increase the housing accommodations of the town.

People who put up apartment houses for two or three families should succeed in getting a low rent for themselves, and they do their part in making their home town grow.

It seems strange that some people will send money away to invest in unknown and doubtful enterprises in distant states, when better investments in some local business or nearby farm or home, could be had that would be more secure. In many places a promising local business will be prevented from expansion because it can't get capital, while a lot of money is being sent away into special five enterprises.

People who invest their money near home, in banks, real estate, or local concerns, are in a position to watch it and know whether it is well handled or not. The number of people who love money through nearby investments is small compared with those who drop it through sending away to strangers and distant locations.

In the Heart of a Child

"Rest in Peace" reads the card on this floral offering which Ambrose J. W. Higgins, Jr., five, of New York City, hands to John Trice, White House staff officer. It was written in the lad's own scrawl. It is just one of those little things that show that Warren G. Harding lives in the hearts of children.

The Progress of Flying

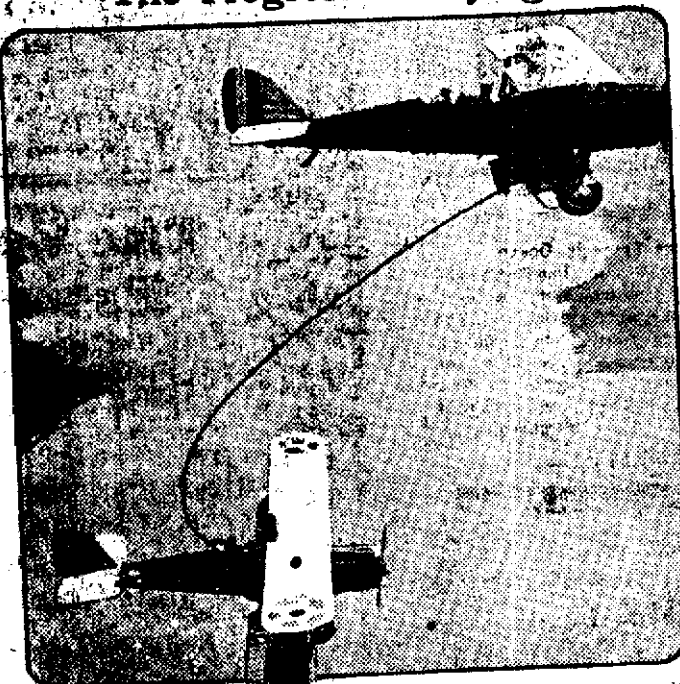

Illustration of the above scheme of refueling an airplane while it is in flight may mean that some day one plane will fly around the earth without stopping. Lieutenants Hine and Siefert in the upper plane pass fuel and food to Captain Lowe Smith and Lieutenant Richter in the lower plane in a recent endurance flight at Coronado, Cal.

Progress Editorial For Women

WANTS FOR UGLY DUCKLINGS. Not gushing over them, but just recognizing their point of view, seeing their personalities, and playing them up a little. Any hostess who knows how to do that need never look long for dinner guests. And suppose that every wife made her husband that way instead of twitting him in public about his small weaknesses.

Every mother knows that if one of her children is an ugly duckling, it is very much her own fault. She hasn't treated him more like a swan.

There's no happier business than making swans out of ugly ducklings, and it can be done, as Sir Philip says, if we practice a little of the courtesy to others which he says he receives in this country.

Teaching Patriotic Sentiment. Nancy had been sent to get Baby Betty to sleep. She rolled the carriage into the front room and put "The Star-Spangled Banner" on the phonograph. As the record began, her mother looked in to see Nancy lifting Betty to a sitting position. "Now, Betty," she admonished, "I know you're too small to stand up when they play 'The Star-Spangled Banner,' but at least you can sit up very straight."

"The fact is," he writes, "that the people of the United States give any visitor who arrives with decent credentials a sense of importance, and elevate him for a while above his usual state of insignificance. Any goose is made to believe himself a stately swan, by the warmth of courtesy shown toward him. This has a strange and exhilarating effect upon the visitor. It gives him self-confidence. It actually does develop virtues in him. His goose quills naturally change into something like swandown, and his neck distinctly elongates. There is something in the very atmosphere—electric, sparkling, little intoxicating—which gives a man courage, makes him feel bigger, and not only feel bigger but be bigger! This is no fantasy, but actual fact. I was rather a brave fellow for those few weeks each year, because so many people believed in my quality of character, in my intelligence, in my powers of truth-telling. Isn't this just another proof of the fact that we are what people expect us to be?

Suppose, too, that we all tried

Easy to Avoid Worry. Worry may be compared to any deadly disease and its victims are innumerable. And if we don't want to become one of the unhappy throng we must, wherever our lines are cast, adapt ourselves to circumstances, Air our grievances and literally looking for more will inevitably result in our becoming downright miserable.

MANY SEEK SHORT CUTS TO WEALTH

There is too much envy of wealth and too little willingness to work for it. Hard work and regular savings, with the interest earned, have enabled many a poor man to acquire riches, and many of the world's richest men started only with determination to work and save regularly. Those who save regularly usually win. A savings account in which regular weekly or monthly deposits are made, is the proper beginning. Start one today. It will help you to acquire things you desire.

At a special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce a resolution was passed recommending that all business places close Friday, Aug. 10th at noon and remain closed balance of afternoon out of respect to the memory of the late President Harding.

Curwensville Chamber of Commerce
JOHN. P. IRVIN, Pres.,
GEO. L. WHITTAKER, Secy.

Today the Ladies Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church are enjoying their annual yearly picnic at the beach and on the grounds there was a forenoon and afternoon session at which the ladies were entertained by a speaker from India.

Miss Frances Bryan, an instructor in Latin, from Detroit, Mich., is a visitor at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Porter, near the borough limits.

The hour for holding the Memorial services of President Harding has been changed from 3 to 4 o'clock, the change becoming necessary owing to the difference in the time between Pittsburgh and Marion, O. The meeting will be held in the Strand theatre at the later hour mentioned. The speakers will be Revs. Cameron, of the Baptist denomination; Collins of the Methodist; Conly, Presbyterian Father Lynch, Catholic and Prof. Grant Norris.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Irvin left the forepart of the week for Detroit, Cleveland and other border cities. They expect to be gone about two weeks.

Mrs. Matilda Michaels and her granddaughter, Helen Louisa Maurey, have gone to Mahaffey for the week end with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Frank Mauey of Crampian shipped in Curwensville stores yesterday, intermingling her spare time in looking up relatives and former acquaintances.

Mr. Frank Ardary, wife and child of Pittsburgh, have been spending several days this week among the Ardary clan and friends.

Ex-Postmaster George K. Leberger, who has been located over at Juniata for the past six or eight months, was in Curwensville several days this week.

Chas. McLaughlin and son, Lewis McLaughlin, who are located at Endicott, N. Y., are circulating around among home folks.

Miss Helen Morris' Sunday School class will hold a lemonade and candy sale on the bank corner Saturday Aug. 11.

It is a false report that Clayton McNaull tried to do underhand work and try and buy the house now occupied by Dick Rutter. Most every one knows I could have had the one I am now living in and didn't want it so why should I want the other? This I believe is a better house and built on the same plan.

The Century Plant
The century plant, a century ago, is a very rare plant. It is probably due to the fact that some of its native range in South America is now a desert. It blooms on a 60 to 80 years old plant. It has been transplanted into 200 houses under artificial conditions. Its blooming state is much prolonged.

Origin of Crests.

The Crests are created as being the originators of crests. Richard I of England was a crest on his helmet like a plume of feathers. In the fifteenth century the crest was described as a crest on a crest.

Women Denied Solace of Prayer.

In some parts of the world the women are not even allowed to pray. Certain Hindu religions deny their women this privilege and among the Ainus of Japan women can pray only in very rare cases as the deputies of their husbands.

SEAL your jelly glasses the sure, easy, modern way: Pour melted Parowax over their contents and you won't need to tie paper over them or cover with tins.

Dip jars into Parowax to keep out air and prevent mold and fermentation. Parowax seals up leaks that jar tops and rubbers often miss.

Just be sure it's PAROWAX. Then you'll know it's sure-pure paraffine, clean as clean can be. Four big cakes in dust-proof carton. At your grocer's.

6900 Fords Turned Out In Single Day Sets New Record For Production

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 9.—Production of the Ford Motor Company has gone to 6,900 Cars and Trucks a day.

And the new production figure
means that within one eight-hour
working day Domestic Assembly
Branches of the Company are at present turning out four times as many Cars as were produced in the entire
first year of the Company's existence.

The new production record was set up Friday, July 27th, when domestic output reached 6,907 Cars and Trucks
the Ford News announces. This is 23 better than the previous high day of June 30th when production was 6,884.

During its first year the company produced 1,708 Cars, so last Friday's production was just 75 more than four times that figure and was 1,905
more than the first three year's output of the company which totaled
6,002.—Adv.

1924 Models Are the Finest Big-Sizes Studebaker Ever Built

The enthusiasm with which the new 1924
model Studebaker cars have been received locally is an indication of the reception they have enjoyed throughout the country.

No wonder. They are emphatically the most compelling values Studebaker ever offered and the public knows that Studebaker has been a consistent leader, year after year, in the amount of intrinsic value per dollar invested.

The Big-Six Sedan and the Coupe are the finest cars that have ever borne the name
Studebaker. They provide all the performance, all the comfort, and all the dependability that any car will give—at a price
that smaller producers cannot approach.

Everything for which one can wish in motoring convenience, comfort and utility
has been provided—even to the extra disc wheel with tire, tube and tire cover (two on Sedan); handsome nickel-plated bumpers,
front and rear; large, roomy trunk; automatic gasoline signal, and many other features. There is nothing more to buy.

The prices of the Sedan and Coupe are moderate because of Studebaker's large production, vast physical and financial resources,
the manufacture of all vital parts in Studebaker plants, and the accumulation of experience and prestige gained through 71 years of
building quality vehicles.

PRESIDENT HARDING BACK HOME!

Body of the late Chief Executive lying in East Room of White House under guard of soldiers, sailors and marines.

Ohio Today Receives Honored Son From A Sorrowful Nation

Pennsylvania Cities Pay Homage to Remains of Chief As Funeral Train Moves Westward.

INDUSTRY CEASING

On Board President Harding's Funeral Train, Aug. 9.—The mother state of six Presidents received back today the latest of her sons to add luster to her name, returning in death, who bore upon his bier the garlands of a Nation's sorrow and love.

Warren G. Harding came back to his home folk this morning. Years ago he went from them into larger spheres of activity and honor, full of splendid vigor; robust in health. He came back today cold and pale in death, the majesty of sacrifice and service upon his still face—back to the mother state that awaits with outstretched arms to receive him to his rest.

Beginning at Baltimore, one hour out of Washington and continuing through York, Harrisburg, Altoona and Pittsburgh the scenes that marked the train's transcontinental progress eastward were re-enacted as it sped through the night and dawn.

At Baltimore a rain storm drenched the thousands who waited the train's arrival, but no one left until the lights of the funeral train faded into the distance.

At York, Pa., silver horns played the stirring hymn: "Lead Kindly Light" while thousands sang.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 9.—Pennsylvania's capital expressed fittingly the sorrow of the Keystone State for its sister Commonwealth to the west.

Altoona found miners and railroad workers standing in reverent silence in the night as the train glided by. Pittsburgh for the second time in two days sent thousands to stand uncovered in the semi-gloom of dawn. Everywhere the train stopped flowers were not on board.

Mrs. Harding rested well after her trying day in Washington yesterday. She was somewhat disturbed by report that she had collapsed. There was no foundation for such report. Her step was as firm, her calm as unshaken when she boarded the train at Washington last night as at any time. She was very tired and retired at once to her stateroom, where she asked that newspapers containing the story of the great state funeral be brought to her. She read

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 9.—The simple rites of a simple people were to attend the last funeral services today and tomorrow of Marion's most distinguished citizen and one of the country's great men.

The body of Warren G. Harding was to arrive at ten o'clock this morning at his home town, only a year ago festooned with flags and bright colors in celebration of the last previous return of the President was today decorated with the sombre colors of mourning.

Early today Center street, along the route from the Union Station to the home of the late President's father was roped off. In places of advantage along the line and at the station people began to take their position hours before the scheduled arrival of the funeral train.

Mrs. F. B. Leavy and son are visiting relatives at Conneaut Lake at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Souders, of Newburgh, New York are visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Souders and other local relatives.

Mrs. Jennie Owens and daughter Elsie of New York city are visiting friends and relatives here.

John Scott and son Orville, have returned to their home in Cincinnati, Ohio, after visiting relatives and friends here. This is Mr. Scott's first visit here in twenty-one years and says he has found the place considerably changed.

HORSES MAKE MEAL OF AIRPLANE WINGS AT BELLEFONTE FIELD

Bellefonte, Pa., Aug. 8.—Aviator R. Haines of Lancaster learned a lesson last night and it as nothing to do with stunts in the air or fancy flying.

Haines, accompanied by his wife and Mechanician J. Behmer, flew here last night from Lewisport. Because of a hard rain storm he came down on the Bellefonte aviation field and decided to spend the night in Bellefonte. The manager of the field advised Haines to run his machine, a commercial plane, into the hangar for safe keeping, but he declined, saying he frequently left it out at night.

The Bellefonte field is located on the farm of Thomas Beaver, Centre county's member of the Legislature. Beaver invariably turns his cattle and horses into the aviation field at night to pasture, as one way of keeping the grass down.

Suits Equine Palate.
Along about midnight the night watchman at the big hangar heard a noise near Haines' plane and investigated. He found most of Beaver's horses around the tail of the machine munching their jaws with every evidencing of delight. An examination disclosed that they had stripped the linen covering off the stabilizer and elevator and were chewing it to pulp. Two big holes had also been torn in the cloth on the wings of the machine. The watchman had difficulty in chasing the animals away, and had to keep close watch on the plane the balance of the night.

The only explanation for the peculiar taste of the horses is that some of the ingredients used in the glue with which the cloth was applied to the wood appealed to their appetites. Haines was compelled to stay in Bellefonte until he could repair the damage.

toona, Pa., who is president of the Laymen's Association of the Central Pennsylvania Conference. The Scripture was Micah the sixth chapter, closing with the eighth verse, specially favorite Scripture of the late President, a verse that he pressed with his lips when he kissed the Bible at his induction into office.

The Official Board was the largest in attendance of this pastorate. Big business was on. October 21 was named for a World Service Sunday, with a group of distinguished men to visit this center of the Clearfield sector of the Williamsport District. A tentative schedule of events and plans was adopted unanimously. Thorough discussion was given every matter. Dr. Titus Lowe, who has served in missionary fields, visited others extensively, filled pastorate in churches in the east and far west, coming under argument.

Mr. Robert Donald Lorenz, one of Blair county's rising young attorneys, now practicing his profession in Roading Springs and Miss Ethel Loretta Minda of Ramey, Clearfield county, were united in marriage on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the parsonage of the Methodist church in Hollidaysburg, the pastor Rev. Robert C. Peters, officiating. They were unattended. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Minda of Ramey and is an accomplished young woman. The bridegroom stands high in his profession and has a host of friends in the county who join in wishing them much happiness. After a wedding trip to eastern cities, they will take up their residence in Roading Spring.—Altoona Mirror.

ROTARY PAYS LAST MARK OF RESPECT TO FELLOW MEMBER

The regular weekly meeting of the Clearfield Rotary Club held at the Hotel Jordan last evening, as was the case at all Rotary Club meetings for the week, was devoted entirely to a memorial service for Rotarian Warren G. Harding, our lately deceased President of the United States.

There were forty-five Rotarians and guests present when President Albert Stewart called the assembly to order and stated the purpose of the meeting. He paid brief tribute to the illustrious deceased Rotarian and called upon Rev. Edward C. Reeve to open the service. Dr. Reeve responded feelingly and most impressively. He touched briefly upon those personal characteristics of Rotarian Harding which won for him such a high place in the hearts of all who had the pleasure of close personal acquaintance and in mentioning his deep religious convictions mentioned the deceased President's preferences for certain passages in the Scripture and the hymns he favored and which were made a part of the funeral service. Among these were the 23d Psalm, which the speaker asked the Rotarians to recite with him; Micah sixth chapter and eight verse, and Revelation, twenty-second chapter, first to fifth verses. Dr. Reeve rehearsed the beautiful stories of these sections of the Word and painted their fitting application in this case. Dr. Reeve's remarks were beautifully impressive and made a lasting impression upon the assemblage.

At the conclusion of Rotarian Reeve's remarks President Stewart asked all to stand and sing "Lead Kindly Light," which was done under the direction of Song Leader H. Clark Thayer.

To Rotarian Singleton Bell had been assigned the task of delivering the memorial to the deceased. The selection was wise as Singleton was at his best, paying most eloquent tribute to the memory of the deceased Rotarian, distinguished statesman and outstanding American. He gave a brief resume of the life of Warren G. Harding, touching upon his many achievements in early life, which marked him as a man possessing exceptionally admirable qualities of head and heart, and carried along the eloquently beautiful outline until the outstanding ability of the man carried him up the ladder of opportunity and service until he stood at the very pinnacle of human achievement in this life in the commanding position of President of the United States. The speaker evidenced his close study of the life of the deceased by the intimate nature of his references to the little things that made Rotarian Harding great in the eyes of his friends and styled his untimely passing away a distinct loss to our nation. Judge Bell in closing his address said he could best show what was in Rotarian Harding's heart by quoting brief extracts from his address to the International Rotary Convention at St. Louis, in which the then President Harding paid splendid tribute to Rotary and its service by saying in effect that the spirit of Rotary implanted in the hearts of all the world would bring about universal peace and the universal good will among men that is a part of the Divine plan.

Rotarian Bell's address was exceptionally forceful and able and at its conclusion the club members arose and brought the meeting to a close with the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee."

City Taking on Dress-Up Appearance for Monster Convention Next Week

Though it is a week until the day this city is due to the fire houses of the Central District of Pennsylvania Volunteer Firemen's association, the center of the city is beginning to take on a gala appearance.

The J. L. Furman Company, of Jamestown, N. Y., who have been made official decorators for the occasion, started this morning to decorate the buildings. This will be followed the fore part of next week with the street decorations. The Furman Company, in order to make good on their contract with the local firemen, turn down the decoration of Marion, Ohio, for the funeral of the late President.

The companies are steadily working in their notices to the effect that they will be with us to a man on the convention dates which assures a vast crowd for the city.

The firemen have engaged Monty's orchestra to furnish music for the grand ball on Wednesday evening and as this orchestra is well known throughout the section a good time is assured to everybody.

The race entries are coming in steadily and there should be some keen competition among the various companies for the prizes which have been put up.

Arrangements have been made today for a grand display of fireworks on Thursday evening, that will surpass anything that has been seen in this city for some time.

CHAS. B. SHUGERTS NEW PRESIDENT OF RED MEN REUNION

The Red Men's Reunion Association of Central Pennsylvania met in annual convention at Mahaffey yesterday. Delegates representing Clearfield, Curwensville, Morrisdale, Madera, Mahaffey and Philipsburg Tribes were present and a very enjoyable day was had.

The parade prizes were awarded as follows:—

Largest number of men in line, Curwensville Tribe.

Tribe coming longest distance, Madera.

Best costume in line, Curwensville.

FINAL DETAILS OF MEMORIAL DAY

Up your streets and down your streets early. All steps will be closed at afternoon and will not reopen. The entire afternoon will be given over to quiet and peaceful out of respect to our late President, Warren G. Harding.

The set program will be carried out tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock at the driving park, this program having been published yesterday in The Progress.

Chairman Edwin M. Shapiro is actively engaged in planning up cars to transport to the park all those who have no means to go and to meeting with the success. M. E. Shapiro will look after the East End. Those who want transportation will meet at the Court House and the City Hall at three o'clock and those who have agreed to furnish cars will also report at that time so they can make several trips.

Every citizen who has a car should join in making this a feature of the occasion and if you have not already called Mr. Shapiro to offer your car, do it at once.

Of course it is not expected that everybody shall wait to be transported to the park. Surely the distance is not so great but that eighty per cent of our population at least can walk or go in their own conveyances. No one will be refused the ride but it is the purpose of the committee to furnish this transportation to mothers with children, little folks and the crippled and aged. Nobody will want to burden those who have been kind enough to offer cars.

The little folks especially should attend this service. It will instill in their minds a new idea of patriotic fervor.

with, also won the 100-yard race. The pole race was won by Madera Tribe.

The band contest was won by the Curwensville band.

Madera Gets Next Convention. The business meeting was convened in Red Men's hall at 7:30 p. m. President Sabbath presiding.

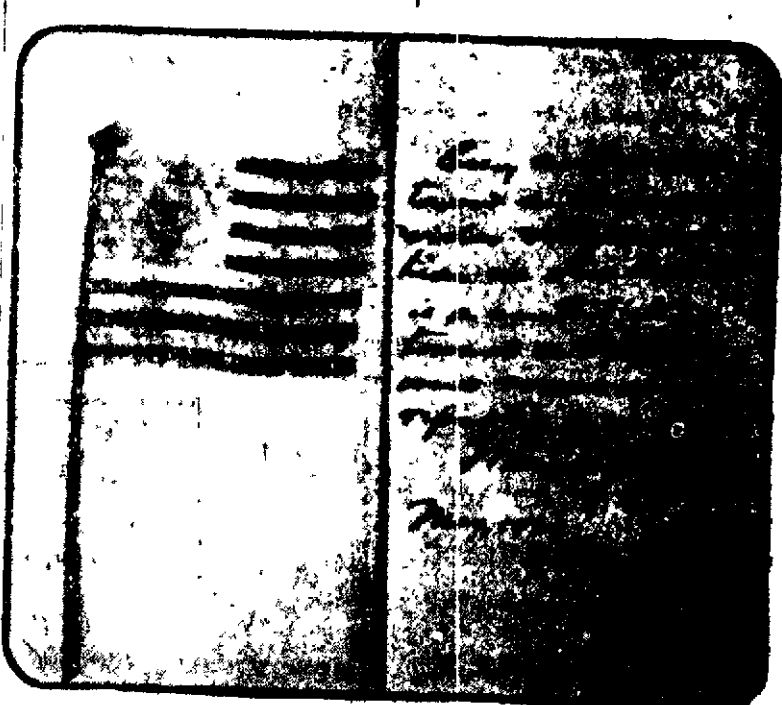

It was decided to notify all the Tribes in the District to hold a memorial service for the late President Harding at their next meeting.

Madera was selected as the place for holding next year's convention.

The following officers were elected: President—Charles B. Shugerts, of Clearfield; vice president—Harold Smith, of Curwensville; secretary—James Wier, of Madera; treasurer—William Weaver, of Morrisdale.

Miss Lulu Watson and sisters of Snow Shoe spent yesterday in Clearfield with relatives.

MUCH PRIZED TESTAMENT HAVING SIGNATURE OF WARREN G. HARDING

The above is a fac-simile of a Testament now in the possession of Albert Hunter which is to be awarded to the worker who sells the most bricks in the campaign to raise funds for the erection of the West Side M. E. church.

The committee early last spring asked the then President to autograph this Testament that it might be used for such a purpose and he very graciously responded.

It will indeed be a worthwhile memento of a truly great American.

One gram of radium emits 136,000,000,000,000,000 atoms a second. It takes 1,700 years for the radium to lose half its strength and 20,000 years of radiation for the radium to become completely inactive.

For clothing the average family this year will spend about seventy-five per cent more than in 1913, according to a national-wide price investigation just completed by the Department of Labor.

At retail stores clothing prices have nearly two per cent higher than a year ago. Compared with 1920, however, the average price shows a decline of sixty per cent.

It was in 1920 that prices of clothing touched the highest point in the history of the United States. In June of that year the average family was buying clothing at a price approximately 187 per cent above the pre-war period. Then depression gripped the country. Unemployment was widespread. The so-called "silk suit" buying stopped abruptly. Merchants endeavored to move stock by slashing prices.

A year later the average clothing price stood at a point 123 per cent above 1913. That meant a reduction of twenty-two per cent from the peak of the previous year. Price cutting continued until the following year, clothing dropped to a point seventy per cent above the 1913 price level.

Three hours and seventeen minutes after Warren G. Harding died in San Francisco last Thursday, Calvin Coolidge took Presidential oath of office from his father in the Coolidge homestead at Plymouth, Vt.

Only one other Vice President ever took the oath following the death of a President, in shorter time. He was Andrew Johnson, who officially became President two hours and thirty-eight minutes after Lincoln died, April 15, 1865.

The seven hours and twenty-one minutes after William McKinley died in Buffalo, Sept. 14, 1901, Theodore Roosevelt was sworn in as President. Chester A. Arthur officially succeeded James A. Garfield on Sept. 20, 1881, three hours and forty-two minutes after the latter's death.

Millard Fillmore, who followed Zachary Taylor, July 10, 1850 and John Tyler, who succeeded William Henry Harrison, April 6, 1841, were sworn in nearly twenty-four hours after the deaths of their predecessors.

Why Busy People Have Leisure.

They say that the busiest people have the most time to give in service to others, can turn clear attention to any subject at an instant's notice. This is simple because the busiest people are the ones who are accomplishing things. They have learned the art of promptness, of quick dismissal of what has to be done. They are always at the moment, undivided attention because their minds are clear and ready.

Cleanliness Next to Godliness.

The phrase "Cleanliness is next to Godliness" is found in John Wesley's Sermon XCII on Dress. The language of the aphorism, however, is taken from the Baraita, a translation of the Mishna by Rabbi M. de Sola. Bacon in one of his essays says: "For cleanliness of body was ever esteemed to proceed from a due reverence to God, to society and to ourselves."—Christian Herald.

All the marble in the facing of the walls of the Washington monument came from the Beaver Dam Quarry, Baltimore County, Maryland. The slight difference in the color is due to the fact that the work was interrupted for over twenty years and exposure to the elements had affected the marble slightly.

In Death Not Divided.

It is true that in several parts of China it is still considered an act of virtue for a woman to commit suicide publicly after the death of her husband. According to the law, the proceeding is actually legal in some provinces, and such is the state of public opinion that in districts where it is officially prohibited the authorities rarely interfere.

Seemed Like Wasted Time.

HOW TO FORGET TROUBLES

TROUBLES knock up your system like Jack Dempsey knocks down his opponent.

Troubles deal blows both in the head and stomach—and hurt the stomach more than they do the head!

Troubles give the stomach indigestion, slow up the liver—and then follow constipation and biliousness.

The way to get rid of troubles is to invigorate digestion, stimulate liver and bowels and tone up the entire system. The best way to do this—has been for the past 80 years—is to take Beecham's Pills.

Then you will feel so good that "troubles" become merely problems, to be solved readily by the clear, keen brain of health.

REGARDING BASEBALL

"BLUNDERS"

At the DuBois-Clearfield ball game at the Park, a DuBois player deliberately violated the rules of the game by standing in onto the base line while reaching at third base. Umpire Linsbigher invoked the rule made to play just such practice by calling the batter out. The DuBois player then contended the Umpire was wrong and refer to the major league's Umpire in an attempt to justify a "steal" at the DuBois game Tuesday evening. They shout as follows:

"Although 'DuBois' Akeley is alleged to have stolen at third in the eighth inning that gave DuBois the deciding tally, local fans point to the fact that Ricketts of Clearfield made a greater blunder than the local official. Clearfield will welcome the firemen of this district next week, Aug. 14-17 inclusive, and DuBois Elks and Clearfield will wind up the big event on Thursday with the deciding game of the three ply series."

Following the kick put up by DuBois Umpire Linsbigher wrote the Sporting Editor of the Philadelphia North American, outlining the play and his ruling and in a reply Editor White informs the umpire the ruling was right as the coach had violated

Radicalism is positive and aggressive. It is not conceivable that anyone convinced of the necessity of extreme action in politics would neglect to make the weight of his opinion felt in the polls. It is a fair assumption that in the recent senatorial election in Minnesota, for example, the full radical strength was represented among those who voted. As the radical candidate was elected by a plurality of about 95,000 it has been concluded that for the time being the majority of electors in that formerly rock-ribbed Republican state have become extreme radicals with intent to improve their economic condition by radical action. Analysis of the complete returns of the polling last month affords nothing in support thereof. It does not afford consolation for the Republican party, whose candidate was decisively beaten, but it is convincing against belief that the American people are shifting away from their traditional sound sense and conservatism.

The fact that Governor Preus and Magnus Johnson, who sought the senatorship this year, had been opponents last November for the governorship, makes comparison of the results of these elections unusually informative. Preus won last year by approximately 13,000; Johnson was successful this year by approximately 13,000. Johnson received a vote last month as he received in November, 1922. The Farmer-Labor polling fell off about 5,000, while the Republican total was approximately 114,000, under that of eight months before. Radicalism made no gain. The falling off of Republican support for Preus is attributed to dissatisfaction with the Governor's administration and his failure to take any positive stand on the issues brought forward in the senatorial election. Johnson got the seat of Knute Nelson by a species of default.

If unrest accounted for the heavy Johnson vote in 1922, the decline in the Johnson vote in 1923 must indicate a subsiding of that unrest and of the faith of Minnesotans in the power of radical prescriptions to improve conditions. But dollar wheat has been mentioned as the principal cause of Johnson's success, this being a trouble added to the old ones that are at the base of the radical uprising. Obviously there has been a miscalculation. The old Republican organization has degenerated to a considerable extent, but the Farmer-Labor party, enthusiastic and well-disciplined, a veritable political machine, has not attracted the disgruntled Republicans in numbers.

That there is danger of the country running into radicalism is indicated by the Minnesota election.

INVEST IN YOUR HOME TOWN

There are some people who will cheer enthusiastically at a public meeting for the advance of their home community, and if it is suggested that they should put up a little money to help this or that town enterprise, they are found wanting. There are others who are extremely free with their valuable advice about home conditions, but if it is suggested that they put financially in improvement enterprises or take stock in local undertakings, they also are missing.

Many people who feel they can not afford to put money into any local business, may yet have some funds which they could loan as a mortgage on some house or farm, or other property. Or they can build a little home for themselves and thus increase the housing accommodations of the town.

People who put up apartment houses for two or three families should succeed in getting a low rent for themselves, and they do their part in making their home town grow.

It seems strange that some people will send money away to invest in unknown and doubtful enterprises in distant states, when better investments in some local business or nearby farm or home, could be had that would be more secure. In many places a promising local business will be prevented from expansion because it can't get capital, while a lot of money is being sent away into special five enterprises.

People who invest their money near home, in banks, real estate, or local concerns, are in a position to watch it and know whether it is well handled or not. The number of people who love money through nearby investments is small compared with those who drop it through sending away to strangers and distant locations.

In the Heart of a Child

"Heart in Peace" reads the card on this floral offering which Ambrose J. W. Higgins, Jr., five, of New York City, hands to John Trice, White House staff officer. It was written in the lad's own script. It is just one of those little things that shows that Warren G. Harding lives in the hearts of children.

The Progress of Flying

Perfection of the above scheme of refueling an airplane while it is in flight may mean that some day one plane will fly around the earth without stopping. Lieutenants Hine and Siefert in the upper plane pass fuel and food to Captain Louis Smith and Lieutenant Richter in the lower plane in a recent endurance flight at Coronado, Cal.

WANTS FOR UGLY DUCKLINGS. Not gushing over them, but just recognizing their point of view, seeing their personalities, and playing them up a little. Any hostess who knows how to do that need never look long for dinner guests. And suppose that every wife may twitting her husband that way instead of small weaknesses.

Every mother knows that if one of her children is an ugly duckling, it is very much her own fault. She hasn't treated him more like a swan. There's no happier business than making swans out of ugly ducklings, and it can be done, as Sir Philip says, if we practice a little of the courtesy to others which he says he receives in this country.

Teaching Patriotic Sentiment. Nancy had been sent to get Baby Betty to sleep. She rolled the carriage into the front room and put "The Star-Spangled Banner" on the phonograph. As the record began, her mother looked in to see Nancy lifting Betty to a sitting position. "Now, Betty," she admonished, "I know you're too small to stand up when they play 'The Star-Spangled Banner,' but at least you can sit up very straight."

MANY SEEK SHORT CUTS TO WEALTH

There is too much envy of wealth and too little willingness to work for it. Hard work and regular savings, with the interest earned, have enabled many a poor man to acquire riches, and many of the world's richest men started only with determination to work and save regularly. Those who save regularly usually win. A savings account in which regular weekly or monthly deposits are made, is the proper beginning. Start one today. It will help you to acquire things you desire.

PROCESSION UP PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE

Caisson bearing the body of President Harding as the procession from the White House to the Capitol turned into Pennsylvania avenue.

LIFE SENTENCE IS PASSED ON GRIFFIN, SLAYER OF POLICE

Cleveland, O., Aug. 8.—John L. Whitefield was found guilty of first degree murder with a recommendation for mercy, by a jury in Judge Phillips' court late today for the murder of Patrolman Dennis Griffin on May 11.

Judge Phillips immediately sentenced Whitefield to life imprisonment in the Ohio penitentiary.

The jury deliberated eight hours ending their verdict at 2:30 p.m. It was 15 minutes later when their verdict was announced.

Whitefield took the verdict calmly and smiled at leaving the death chair. He was smiling when he came into court. He answered with a laconic "no" when asked by the court if he had anything to say before being sentenced.

Deceased Patrolman

In passing sentence Judge Phillips said that he was recommending a verdict that would carry with it the death penalty.

Talking directly to the prisoner in sentencing him, Judge Phillips said: "In my entire experience I have never known of a murderer who so fully deserved the death penalty. As the trial judge I would have felt a degree of satisfaction in sentencing you to death, but my hands are tied by the verdict and therefore I sentence you to spend the remainder of your life in the penitentiary. I never knew of a more heartless, more indifferent more depraved cold blooded following a brutal murder. Three women and nine men, composed the jury."

Keap-Twice

Whitefield was tried for the slaying of Griffin, who had arrested him on the morning of May 11 on charges of stealing spark plugs and had started for the station house in Whitefield's automobile. They did not arrive there.

An investigation was started, a nationwide alarm and description of

BROWN'S BOOT SHOPS

Whitefield was sent out and a search for Griffin's body was begun by police. The body, stripped, was found May 11 in a shallow grave east of here. Parts of the officer's uniform and equipment were found near the remains of a fire close by.

Whitefield and Marie Price, his 14-year-old-girl companion, were found in Madison, Wis., on May 22, but Whitefield escaped from two policemen. He was located in Detroit on June 24 and brought here two days later and indicted for first degree murder.

Makes it Easier to Forgive.

We all seem a little mad to each other; an excellent arrangement for the bulk of humankind which finds in it an easy method of forgiveness.—Einer

Beginning of Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian association was founded in England by George Williams, a London dry goods merchant, in 1844. On the occasion of its jubilee its originator was knighted. The Y. M. C. A. was founded in 1857 in two places simultaneously. In 1877 the two branches united.

The Prize Hat of Paris

This hat, worn by Mile. Gypsy, dancer, won first prize in the recent annual millinery show in Paris. The band is combined white silk and straw, studded with imitation jewels. Blue velvet ribbon is shirred in fan shape on top of this and long streamers fall down the back.

On Santa Fe Trail.

"Give me that roll of tape, sweetheart," a camper said to his wife at Tourists' park one morning. "That's the way with you," she retorted. "When you want me to do something, it's 'sweetheart,' and any other time it's just plain old Sue. Go get your own tape!"—Empire Gazette.

The little balloons being sold on the streets or given away with purchases of candy give two great thrills to the young folks—one when they expand grandly and one when they burst.

The Filling Station. The many people use their homes as filling stations where they fill up, pay up and on.

Not the Usual Way. A New York city man recently committed suicide because he was unable to comprehend the mechanism of an automobile. Most peculiar. All the others we ever saw with this failing charged $1 an hour for their services, and then never hurried on the job of making a bad matter worse.

ARE YOU WEAK, TIRED, WORN OUT BEFORE DAY'S WORK IS DONE?

ARE YOU WEAK.—Medical.—It's not the hot weather or the amount you have to do but the run-down condition of your system that makes work a burden and life a drudge.

Build yourself up! Take a good tonic, as your doctor would advise. A delicious spoonful of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup will quickly increase your appetite, strengthen your digestion, tone your torpid liver, fortify. One of the most exciting occupations is that which newshoys engage when a rain drops through a grating in the sidewalk. A long stick is found first. Someone provides a cud of chewing gum, which is stuck on the end of the stick. Then one of the boys guides the gum to the coin and draws it forth, while the rest of the gang coaches and criticizes.—Exchange.

Figures Show Country's Growth. A single New York city bank of today carries deposits equalling more than twenty years ago the total deposits in all the banks in 1847. The deposits in New York banks in the year 1847 were 1,000,000. These banks carried 100,000,000 of specie and had a circulation of $7,000,000.

Get Together Spirit. A good way to make people love one another and to teach them to combine for general improvement is to give them a chance to get together for harmless fun that will refresh their bodies and soothe their minds, and if these are not the principal purposes of the church they are at least among its objects.—Providence Standard Union.

Found in a Pigsty

Luisa Chavez, 25, was taken by officials of El Paso, Tex., after neighbors reported that she had lived in a pigsty and chicken coop for 10 years. She was found to be subnormal and tubercular.

Fairy Palace.

To see the most beautiful places you ever saw, go to the Fairy Palace. It is a most wonderful place, with its many fountains, its many gardens, its many beautiful things. It is a most wonderful place, with its many fountains, its many gardens, its many beautiful things.

Stagnant Spots in Ocean.

The Sargasso sea is almost the resting-center of the whirl of the ocean currents in the north Atlantic. The seaweed comes from distant shores, where it has been wrenched off by the force of the currents. There are four other great stagnant areas of the ocean.

Curwensville's Own Column

At a special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce a resolution was passed recommending that all business places close Friday, Aug. 10th at noon and remain closed balance of afternoon out of respect to the memory of the late President Harding.

Curwensville Chamber of Commerce
JOHN. P. IRVIN, Pres.,
GEO. L. WHITTAKER, Secy.

Today the Ladies Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church are enjoying their annual yearly picnic at the beach and on the grounds there was a forenoon and afternoon session at which the ladies were entertained by a speaker from India.

Miss Frances Bryan, an instructor in Latin, from Detroit, Mich., is a visitor at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Porter, near the borough limits.

The hour for holding the Memorial services of President Harding has been changed from 3 to 4 o'clock, the change becoming necessary owing to the difference in the time between Pittsburgh and Marion, O. The meeting will be held in the Strand theatre at the later hour mentioned. The speakers will be Revs. Cameron, of the Baptist denomination; Collins of the Methodist; Conly, Presbyterian Father Lynch, Catholic and Prof. Grant Norris.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Irvin left the forepart of the week for Detroit, Cleveland and other border cities. They expect to be gone about two weeks.

Mrs. Matilda Michaels and her granddaughter, Helen Louise Maurey, have gone to Mahaffey for the week end with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Frank Mauey of Crampian shipped in Curwensville stores yesterday, intermingling her spare time in looking up relatives and former acquaintances.

Mr. Frank Ardary, wife and child of Pittsburgh, have been spending several days this week among the Ardary clan and friends.

Ex-Postmaster George K. Leberger, who has been located over at Juniata for the past six or eight months, was in Curwensville several days this week.

Chas. McLaughlin and son, Lewis McLaughlin, who are located at Endicott, N. Y., are circulating around among home folks.

Miss Helen Morris' Sunday School class will hold a lemonade and candy sale on the bank corner Saturday Aug. 11.

It is a false report that Clayton McNaull tried to do underhand work and try and buy the house now occupied by Dick Rutter. Most every one knows I could have had the one I am now living in and didn't want it so why should I want the other? This I believe is a better house and built on the same plan.

Tribute to the Late President

Lilies and palms were tributes to the late President Harding placed in his casket here at the Calvary Baptist Church where he was shipped while in Washington.

The Century Plant. The century plant, a century ago, is a very rare plant. It is probably due to the fact that some of its native range in South America is now a desert. It blooms on a 600 ft. stem but it has been transplanted into 200 houses under artificial conditions. Its blooming date is much prolonged.

Origin of Crests.

The Crests are created as being the originators of crests. Richard I of England was a crest on his helmet like a plume of feathers. In the fifteenth century the crest was described as a crest on a crest.

Women Denied Solace of Prayer.

In some parts of the world the women are not even allowed to pray. Certain Hindu regulations deny their women this privilege and among the Ainus of Japan women can pray only in very rare cases as the deputies of their husbands.

SEAL your jelly glasses the sure, easy, modern way: Pour melted Parowax over their contents and you won't need to tie paper over them or cover with tins.

Dip jars into Parowax to keep out air and prevent mold and fermentation. Parowax seals up leaks that jar tops and rubbers often miss.

Just be sure it's PAROWAX. Then you'll know it's sure-pure paraffine, clean as clean can be. Four big cakes in dust-proof carton. At your grocer's.

Burma's Sassaum Crop.

Over 200 different types of husked rice or paddy were under examination last year at one of the government agricultural farms in Burma, and over 200 types of sassaum were grown at another. Hitherto much of the sassaum grown in Burma has been exported to Europe, where it is used for the production of the so-called "olive oil," for which France and Italy have long been famed.

6900 Fords Turned Out In Single Day Sets New Record For Production

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 9.—Production
of the Ford Motor Company has gone
to 6,900 Cars and Trucks a day.

And the new production figure
means that within one eight-hour
working day Domestic Assembly
Branches of the Company are at present turning out four times as many Cars as were produced in the entire
first year of the Company's existence.

The new production record was set up Friday, July 27th, when domestic output reached 6,907 Cars and Trucks
the Ford News announces. This is 23
better than the previous high day of June 30th when production was 6,884.

During its first year the company
produced 1,708 Cars, so last Friday's production was just 75 more than four times that figure and was 1,905
more than the first three year's output of the company which totaled
6,002.—Adv.

the amount I put in his damned old mighty so."

1924 Models Are the Finest Big-Sizes Studebaker Ever Built

The enthusiasm with which the new 1924
model Studebaker cars have been received
locally is an indication of the reception they have enjoyed throughout the country.

No wonder. They are emphatically the most compelling values Studebaker ever offered
and the public knows that Studebaker has been a consistent leader, year after year, in the amount of intrinsic value per dollar invested.

The Big-Six Sedan and the Coupe are the
finest cars that have ever borne the name
Studebaker. They provide all the performance, all the comfort, and all the depend-
ability that any car will give—at a price
that smaller producers cannot approach.

Everything for which one can wish in
motoring convenience, comfort and utility
has been provided—even to the extra disc
wheel with tire, tube and tire cover (two on Sedan); handsome nickel-plated bumpers,
front and rear; large, roomy trunk; automatic gasoline signal, and many other features. There is nothing more to buy.

The prices of the Sedan and Coupe are moderate because of Studebaker's large production, vast physical and financial resources,
the manufacture of all vital parts in Stude-
baker plants, and the accumulation of experience and prestige gained through 71 years of
building quality vehicles.
